I. BACKGROUND

1. Established in March 1988, the Japan Special Fund (JSF), has actively pursued its mandate to support the efforts of the Asian Development Bank (ADB) to promote the social and economic progress of the Asia and Pacific region by contributing to the financing of ADB's technical assistance (TA) program in its developing member countries (DMCs) (Appendix 1). To assist the region in recovering from the currency crisis and in restructuring the affected economies, additional TA is being made available to enable governments of the region to plan, control, and sustain development projects and programs, particularly for weakened social infrastructure.

2. The JSF's role has become even more important since 1999, when ADB refocused its goals on poverty reduction. ADB's DMCs must now confront extensive poverty and its corresponding social ills. To respond to this challenge, the JSF has evolved into a significant partner in combating Asia's poverty and furthering ADB's development activities and plans to improve the quality of life in the region in areas such as health, education, and infrastructure improvement.

3. As administrator of the JSF, ADB processes TA proposals in batches during the year. Critical TA proposals needing urgent attention are processed on a case-by-case basis. The JSF has a two-step approval process, involving initial and final approval. After careful screening of suitable TAs by the Office of Cofinancing Operations, an initial approval is sought from the JSF authorities in the Government of Japan. The JSF authorities undertake a thorough review of the proposals and seek clarifications, as necessary, to gain a complete understanding of the TA proposal and to maintain project quality. The JSF authorities then advise ADB of the proposals receiving their initial approval. Once a proposal is reviewed and approved by an interdepartmental staff review committee, final approval for JSF financing is sought from the JSF authorities.

II. OVERVIEW OF JAPAN SPECIAL FUND OPERATIONS IN 2000

A. Overview

4. The JSF, now operational for 12 years, has been instrumental in addressing ADB's most important strategic priorities. To sustain ADB's overarching goal of eliminating poverty from the region, the JSF continues to support ADB operations aimed at poverty reduction in line with the three pillars of the new strategy: pro-poor, sustainable economic growth; social development; and good governance.

5. During 2000, the JSF provided a total of $77.1 million for 113 TAs on an untied basis, accounting for 38 percent of all TA approvals.

6. To counteract the social challenge of poverty, the JSF has been promoting investments in human and physical infrastructure to enhance the quality of life. It provided substantial support to the health sector in Cambodia and Indonesia, helped meet water and urban sector needs of the People's Republic of China, addressed the environmental degradation of the Pasig River in the Philippines, and supported urban social infrastructure development in Uzbekistan and Viet Nam.

7. In Cambodia, for example, to improve the effectiveness of the Government's response to the HIV/AIDS¹ epidemic (Box 1), the JSF is supporting (i) the Government's institution-building program for the National AIDS Authority and related key line ministries; (ii) local responses to HIV/AIDS by building capacity at provincial levels; and (iii) a refinement of the existing HIV/AIDS response through more rigorous and critical analysis of available data from surveillance surveys and other sources.

Box 1: Capacity Building for HIV/AIDS, Cambodia

The technical assistance has three components, all focusing on strengthening: (i) multisector response by helping the newly established National AIDS Authority (NAA) prepare its work plan and the HIV/AIDS strategic plan for 2001-2005; (ii) provincial response by supporting and strengthening the ongoing process of decentralization and devolution of ownership of local response to the epidemic; and (iii) analysis of surveillance data by providing technical support to NAA and the National Center for HIV/AIDS, Dermatology, and Sexually Transmitted Diseases to build in-country capacity to review and evaluate the strengths and weaknesses of existing surveillance data.

TA 3511-CAM: Capacity Building for HIV/AIDS, for $600,000, approved on 3 October 2000.

8. In Indonesia, several TAs assisting the health sector were approved during the year. ADB's loan for the Decentralized Health Services Project was accompanied by TA to support policy reforms in the health sector, which will permit the Government, and districts and provinces in the project area to take advantage of decentralization to identify, develop, and implement health sector reforms adapted to the local context.

Box 2: Support for Health Sector Policy Reform, Indonesia

The technical assistance will have two components: (i) consulting services, and (ii) research and analysis. TA funds will be used to ensure continuity of advisory services and facilitate exchange of experience and lessons learned between the Government agencies, other institutions, provinces, and districts, with particular emphasis on the project provinces. It will also provide resources to be allocated by the Ministry of Health for surveys, workshops, operations research, and studies in support of health sector reforms.

TA 3579-INO: Support for Health Sector Policy Reform, for $1,000,000, approved on 14 December 2000.

To improve the adoption and impact of the Indonesian Health and Nutrition Sector Development Program (HNSDP), and improve the program's targeting and delivery mechanisms, a supplementary TA focusing on monitoring and evaluating the HNSDP is being implemented. It emphasizes involvement of nongovernment and community-based organizations as monitors to collect data directly from beneficiaries at program sites on the effectiveness of beneficiary targeting of the HNSDP.

Box 3: Monitoring and Evaluating the Health and Nutrition Sector Development Program, Indonesia

The technical assistance aims to develop a comprehensive project performance monitoring system to enable the Government and the Asian Development Bank to assess progress, identify constraints, and adjust delivery mechanisms to improve the efficiency of the Health and Nutrition Sector Development Program; and to evaluate the effectiveness of program strategies for subsequent refinement and institutionalization.

TA 3175-INO: Monitoring and Evaluating the Health and Nutrition Sector Development Program, for $1,000,000, approved on 25 January 2000.

9. The JSF funded TA will support the Mongolian Government's goals for the housing sector as set out in the Housing Law (April 1999). To meet the borrowing needs of low- and middle-income households in Mongolia, the TA will prepare a project that is suitable for ADB funding and promote a sustainable, market-based system for the delivery of housing finance.

Box 4: Housing Sector Finance, Mongolia

The technical assistance components include (i) formulating financial and management criteria for the selected participating commercial banks (PCBs); (ii) conducting detailed financial and operational analyses of the PCBs; and (iii) undertaking financial and operational analyses of selected savings and credit cooperatives, small-scale contractors, and other prospective borrowers, etc., with the ultimate goal of developing a viable housing finance system for Mongolia.

TA 3406-MON: Housing Sector Finance Project, for $998,000, approved on 12 September 2000.

B. Recognition of JSF Assistance

10. ADB's efforts to reduce poverty in Asia and the Pacific were reinforced in 2000 as the JSF continued to help fund social infrastructure improvements in Cambodia, People's Republic of China, Indonesia, Mongolia, Philippines, Sri Lanka, and Uzbekistan. Beneficiaries and governments recognize the contributions of JSF-funded as which also focused on agriculture and natural resources, transport and communications, environment, and energy activities.

11. Residents from low- and middle-income households in Mongolia expressed strong support for JSF-funded TA to the urban development sector; it is expected to result in the first Housing Finance Project in Mongolia and the establishment of a viable housing finance system in the country.

12. In Indonesia, the Government Environmental Impact Management Assessment agency, BAPEDAL, praised the successful implementation of the JSF-financed TA, Capacity Building for Decentralization of Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA), which was instrumental in strengthening the role of EIA in the project permit system. The TA helped integrate and simplify the EIA process by introducing strategic environmental assessment, establishing a mechanism to promote transparency and stakeholder participation on the EIA process, and reaching an understanding between central and local governments on developing district and city environment institutions.

13. In the People's Republic of China, residents of Anhui Province expressed willingness to participate in the implementation of the JSF-financed Acid Rain Control and Environmental Improvement Project.

C. Evaluation of JSF-financed Technical Assistance

14. ADB postevaluates its TA operations to provide feedback to improve ongoing and future TA activities. Following a two-step evaluation system, a TA completion report is first prepared by the division or office in charge of TA implementation. The report is prepared within six months to one year after TA completion.

15. The second step is the preparation of a TA performance audit report (TPAR) by the Operations Evaluation Department within six months to one year after completion of the TA completion report. TPAR's are prepared on a highly selective basis, generally based on ADB-wide priorities, and the relevance and appropriateness of lessons learned for design and implementation of TAs in a particular sector or country. The TPAR assesses implementation performance, evaluates the achievement and impact of the TA, and draws lessons from the experience to improve ADB's TA activities.

Postevaluated projects, programs, and TA operations are classified as generally successful, partly successful, or unsuccessful. TPAR's from 1995 onward are available on-line by accessing OED's website at <http://adb.org>.

D. Contributions from the Government of Japan

16. To support these endeavors, in 2000, the Government of Japan provided a total of ¥4.1 billion, all in regular contributions, as its 12th annual contribution to the JSF. This brings Japan's cumulative contributions to the JSF, since its inception in March 1988, to ¥90.6 billion (about $782.5 million equivalent), comprising regular contributions of ¥72.6 billion and supplementary contributions of ¥18.0 billion.

E. Balance of Contributions Available for New Commitments

17. Of the total contribution received by the JSF, as of 31 December 2000, $652.7 million had already been used to fund TAs. As of 31 December 2000, TAs totaling $38.7 million had been approved by both the Government of Japan and ADB, but had not yet become effective, and further TAs totaling $10.9 million had been approved by the Government of Japan and were being processed by ADB. At the end of 2000, the uncommitted balance available for new commitments was $51.1 million.

F. Operational Highlights

1. Total Approvals for the Year and Cumulative Totals

18. In 2000, the JSF provided about $77.1 million for 113 TAs (including both country-specific TAs and regional TAs) (Appendix 2), compared with $61.0 million the previous year. This total represents about 38 percent of ADB's total TA Program during 2000. From 1988 to the end of 2000, a total of $727.4 million under the JSF was committed to finance 1,180 TAs (Appendix 3).

2. Total Approvals by Country

19. During 2000, the JSF financed 94 new country-specific TAs in 25 countries for a total of $66.0 million. Since its establishment, the JSF has supported 33 countries (Appendix 4).

3. Nature and Type of TA Projects Supported

20. In support of ADB's goal to eradicate poverty in the region, the JSF has made untied funds available for advisory, project preparatory, and regional TAs.

21. In 2000, the JSF supported 52 advisory TAs for $36.3 million. Since its inception in 1988, the JSF has financed 567 advisory TAs for $359.2 million.

22. During 2000, the JSF financed 42 project preparatory TAs for $29.8 million. Cumulative approvals of project preparatory TAs from 1988 to 2000 totaled $287.9 million for 481 TAs.

23. In 2000, the JSF financed 19 regional TAs for $11.1 million. From 1988 to 2000, a total of $80.3 million for 132 TAs were approved for JSF financing.

4. Total Approvals by Sector

24. The JSF can support a whole range of sectors and subsectors (Appendix 5). Since its inception in 1988, the agriculture and natural resources sector (28 percent of total funding with 276 grants for $180.2 million), and the social infrastructure sector (22 percent of total funding with 254 grants for $144.9 million) received the most support.

G. Financial Statements

25. Since 1997, explanatory notes to the JSF financial statements have been included in ADB's Annual Report to show the actual and realistic balances available to finance new TA proposals under the JSF (Appendix 6). This provides a clear picture of the uncommitted JSF balances to date.

H. Home Page

26. Beginning with the 1997 JSF Annual Report, the English version of the JSF Annual Report has been made available through the ADB website <http://www.adb.org> under the Cofinancing Opportunities section.

III. ASIAN CURRENCY CRISIS SUPPORT FACILITY

A. Activities

27. The Asian Currency Crisis Support Facility (ACCSF) was established in March 1999 as an independent component of the JSF. It is entirely funded by the Government of Japan as part of its financial assistance under the New Miyazawa Initiative to ADB DMCs most affected by the recent financial crisis. The ACCSF provides assistance by helping to augment and enhance ADB financial support. ADB administers the ACCSF. The beneficiary countries include Indonesia, Republic of Korea,² Malaysia, Philippines, and Thailand. The ACCSF modalities comprise (i) interest payment assistance (IPA) and TA grants, and (ii) guarantees. Assistance with ACCSF financing must be approved during the three years following the establishment of the ACCSF or during such extended period as the Government of Japan and ADB may agree if the beneficiary countries have not fully recovered from the crisis.

28. In March 2000, the Government of Japan contributed ¥15.0 billion ($136.6 million equivalent) for its third contribution to the ACCSF. At the end of 2000, Japan's cumulative contributions for the IPA and TA component of the ACCSF amounted to ¥27.5 billion ($241.0 million equivalent). The uncommitted balance of funds for new approvals of IPA and TA was $125.9 million as of 31 December 2000.

29. In 2000, ADB approved seven TA grants for ACCSF funding totaling to $7.6 million.

30. ACCSF financing is targeted at activities that support policy dialogue, human resource development, institutional strengthening, and other relevant efforts focusing on bank restructuring and corporate debt restructuring; creation or development of sound financial monitoring, supervision, and regulation; enhancement of public sector and corporate governance; development of social safety nets; and protection of the environment. During 2000, the ACCSF financed seven advisory TAs as part of ADB's response to the financial crisis. This included two projects in the Philippines aimed at strengthening management capacity and improving the quality of technical education and skills development system; and providing capacity building support for Pasig River environmental management and rehabilitation. The ACCSF also financed five projects in Indonesia aimed at supporting a deregulation and competition task force; helping the small and medium enterprise (SME) task force evaluate existing support programs and develop a strategy for SME development; developing the internal capacity to guide public expenditure management reforms; and developing a monitoring and evaluation system for the health and nutrition sector development program; and to develop a system for disbursement, monitoring, and accounting of project funds.

² Although the Republic of Korea was severely affected at the onset of the crisis, the country has made significant progress in macroeconomic recovery. Given these improvements, the Republic of Korea will not receive assistance under the ACCSF as long as the present situation continues.

31. The Government of Japan also deposited a promissory note for ¥360.0 billion ($3.2 billion equivalent) in the ACCSF custodian account; this note may be encashed at any time to meet a call on any guarantees issued under the ACCSF. During 2000, although opportunities for using ACCSF guarantees in relation to ADB operations in the countries eligible for ACCSF financing were identified, no ACCSF guarantee operations were concluded.

B. Sectoral Activities

32. In 2000, the ACCSF financed 4 percent of the total value of TAs approved by ADB. The breakdown of ACCSF TA approvals by sector is shown in Table 2.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT AUDITORS

Asian Development Bank

In our opinion, the accompanying statements of financial position and the related statements of activities and changes in net assets and of cash flows present fairly, in all material respects, in terms of United States dollars, the financial position of the Asian Development Bank—Japan Special Fund at 31 December 2000 and 1999, and the results of its activities and changes in net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States. These financial statements are the responsibility of the management of the Asian Development Bank; our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits of these statements in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards in the United States which require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for the opinion expressed above.

NOTE A—NATURE OF OPERATIONS

The Japan Special Fund (JSF) was established in March 1988 when Japan and the Asian Development Bank (ADB) entered into a financial arrangement whereby Japan agreed to make an initial contribution and ADB became the administrator. The purpose of JSF is to help developing member countries (DMCs) of ADB restructure their economies and broaden the scope of opportunities for new investments, thereby assisting the recycling of funds to DMCs of ADB. While JSF resources are used mainly to finance technical assistance (TA) operations, these resources may also be used for equity investment operations in ADB's DMCs. Under the agreement between ADB and Japan, ADB may invest the proceeds of JSF pending disbursement. The revenue from such investments, if retained by ADB, may only be used to pay for direct and identifiable costs incurred in the administration of JSF.

In March 1999, the Board approved the acceptance and administration by ADB of a new facility, the Asian Currency Crisis Support Facility (ACCSF) to assist Asian currency crisis-affected member countries (CAMCs). Funded by Japan, ACCSF was established within JSF to assist in the economic recovery of CAMCs through interest payment assistance (IPA) grants, TA grants and guarantees. ACCSF funds must be committed within three years after the date the facility became effective. Thereafter, the use of any residual funds, if and when the purpose of ACCSF is considered to be fulfilled, shall be decided in consultation between ADB and Japan.

NOTE B—SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES*Presentation of the Financial Statements*

The financial statements of JSF are presented on the basis of unrestricted and temporarily restricted net assets. ACCSF funds are separately reported in the financial statements.

JSF reports the contributions of cash and other assets as restricted support if they are received with donor stipulations that limit the use of the donated assets. When the donor restriction expires, that is, when a stipulated time or purpose restriction is accomplished, temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and reported in the Statement of Activities and Changes in Net Assets as net assets released from restrictions.

Investments

All investment securities held by JSF are reported at estimated fair value, with realized and unrealized gains and losses included in revenue. Estimated fair value generally represents market value. Cost or amortized cost is used to approximate fair value for certain short-term investments not traded in the market (time deposits, etc.).

Contributions

Contributions by Japan are included in the financial statements from the date indicated by Japan that funds are expected to be made available. Contributions which are restricted by the donor for specific TA projects/programs or for IPA grants are classified as temporarily restricted contributions. Those without any stipulation as to specific use are accounted for as unrestricted contributions and reported as such.

Technical Assistance and Interest Payment Assistance

Technical assistance and interest payment assistance are recognized in the financial statements when the related project or assistance is approved and becomes effective. Upon completion of the TA project, any undisbursed amount is written back as a reduction in TA for the period and the corresponding undisbursed commitment is eliminated, accordingly.

Functional Currency and Reporting Currency

The functional currency of JSF is the Japanese yen, while the reporting currency is the United States dollar. The financial statements are expressed in thousands of current United States dollars.

Translation of Currencies

Assets, liabilities, and uncommitted balances are translated from the functional currency to the reporting currency at the applicable rates of exchange at the end of a reporting period. Contributions included in the financial statements during the year are translated at the applicable exchange rates as of the respective dates of commitment. Revenue and expense amounts in Japanese yen are translated for each semimonthly period at the applicable rates of exchange at the beginning of each period; such practice approximates the application of average rates in effect during the period. Exchange gains or losses on currency transactions arise on translation differences between the date a project/program is committed and the timing of disbursements. Exchange gains or losses are charged or credited to operations.

Equity Investments

Equity investments with readily determinable fair values are reported at fair value. ADB makes provisions for possible loss of value quarterly based on Management's evaluation of potential losses on investments without readily determinable fair values.

Accounting Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires Management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities as at the end of the year and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the year. The actual results could differ from those estimates.

Statement of Cash Flows

For the purposes of the statement of cash flows, the JSF considers that its cash and cash equivalents are limited to "DUE FROM BANKS."

Reclassification

Certain 1999 amounts have been reclassified to conform with the 2000 presentation.

NOTE C—INVESTMENTS

The currency compositions of the investment portfolio as of 31 December 2000 and 1999 expressed in United States dollars were as follows:

The annualized rates of return on the average investments held under ACCSF and JSF funds during the year, based on the portfolio held at the beginning and end of each month were 1.18% and 6.42%, respectively (0.07% and 5.22% – 1999).

Investments are governed by the Investment Authority approved by the Board of Directors. The main investment management objective is to maintain security and liquidity. Subject to these parameters, ADB seeks the highest possible return on JSF's investments.

In 1999, the Board of Directors approved a new Investment Authority. The new Investment Authority allows investment in higher-yielding investment instruments, such as high-quality corporate bonds, mortgage-backed securities, and asset-backed securities.

NOTE D—EQUITY INVESTMENTS

ADB used JSF resources to make an equity investment in India in 1990 totaling $338,000 at 31 December 2000 ($709,000 – 1999). The investment is reported at its estimated fair value and the unrealized loss of $330,000 (gain of $506,000 – 1999) is charged against income for the year.

NOTE E—OTHER ASSETS AND LIABILITIES

Included in other assets and liabilities are interfund transfers between JSF and ACCSF. As of 31 December 2000, an amount of $584,000 ($485,000 – 1999) was receivable from ACCSF. The said amount is reflected as other assets under JSF and other liabilities under ACCSF.

NOTE F—UNDISBURSED COMMITMENTS

Undisbursed commitments are denominated in United States dollars and represent TA projects/programs and IPA grants which have become effective but have not been disbursed. During 2000, an amount of $11,751,000 ($4,779,000 - 1999), representing completed and canceled TA projects, has been written back as a reduction in technical assistance for the period and the corresponding undisbursed commitment has been eliminated. The fair value of undisbursed commitments approximates the amounts outstanding because JSF expects that disbursements will substantially be made for all the projects/programs covered by the commitments.

NOTE G—UNCOMMITTED BALANCES

Uncommitted balances are composed of amounts which have not been committed by ADB as at 31 December 2000. These balances include TA projects/programs that had been approved but which had not yet become effective.

As of 31 December 2000 and 1999 these balances were as follows:

NOTE H—CONTRIBUTIONS AND TEMPORARILY RESTRICTED NET ASSETS

All contributions for the years ended 31 December 2000 and 1999 were received during the respective years. Some of the contributions received were with the restriction that they were to be utilized for specific TA projects/programs and IPA grants. Such contributions were classified as temporarily restricted support.

Temporarily restricted uncommitted balances are available for the following purposes as of 31 December 2000

and 1999:

	57,276,000	54,710,000
Total	$193,913,000	$80,839,000

Accumulated investment income net of accumulated administrative expenses has been categorized as temporarily restricted net assets because, under the terms of the agreement between ADB and Japan, it may only be used for defraying of the Fund's administrative expenses.

Net assets released from restrictions relate to commitments for technical assistance and interest payment assistance satisfying the conditions specified by the donor and, in the case of accumulated investment income, to defray the administrative expenses of the Fund.

NOTE I—GUARANTEES

To assist in the economic recovery of CAMCs, a guarantee facility is provided under ACCSF. In this connection, Japan has made available a noninterest-bearing, nonnegotiable note in the amount of ¥360 billion ($3.2 billion), encashable by ADB at any time to meet any calls on the guarantee facility. As of 31 December 2000, no guarantee has been made.

NOTE J—FAIR VALUE OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Fair value of a financial instrument is defined as the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties, other than in a forced or liquidation sale.

The fair value of financial instruments that are short-term approximates their carrying amounts.

If available, quoted market values are used to determine fair values. Financial instruments for which market quotations are not readily available are valued using methodologies and assumptions which necessarily require the use of subjective judgments. Accordingly, the actual value at which such financial instruments could be exchanged in a current transaction or whether they are actually exchangeable is not determinable.

The Fund's statement of financial position carrying amounts are considered to approximate fair values for all significant financial instruments. See Notes B, C, D, and E for discussions with respect to investments, equity investments, and undisbursed commitments, respectively.
