

Asian Development Bank & Germany

FACT SHEET

The Asian Development Bank (ADB) is dedicated to reducing poverty in Asia and the Pacific through pro-poor sustainable economic growth, social development, and good governance.

Established in 1966, it is owned by 67 members—48 from the region—who have committed $179.7 billion in loans to the vision of a region free of poverty.

Despite the region's many successes, it remains home to two-thirds of the world's poor: 1.8 billion people who live on less than $2 a day, with 903 million struggling on less than $1.25 a day.

Germany has contributed $7.05 billion in capital subscription as of 31 December 2011. It has contributed and committed $2.11 billion to special funds since joining in 1966.

German companies and consultants have been awarded $2.38 billion in procurement contracts (based on nationality of contractor) on ADB-financed projects since 1967.

In 2011, lending volume was $12.61 billion (104 projects), with technical assistance (TA) at $148 million (212 projects) and grant-financed projects at $614 million (23 projects). In addition, $7.7 billion was generated in direct value-added cofinancing in the form of official loans and grants and commercial cofinancing such as B loans, risk transfer arrangements, parallel loans, and cofinancing for transactions under ADB's Trade Finance Program.

From 1 January 2007 to 31 December 2011, ADB's annual lending volume averaged $11.34 billion. In addition, TA and investment grants funded by ADB and special funds resources averaged $755.3 million and $175.0 million in TA over the same period.

As of 31 December 2011, the cumulative totals excluding cofinancing were $179.7 billion in loans for 2,423 projects in 42 countries, $5.0 billion in 186 grants, and $3.3 billion in TA grants, including regional TA grants.

In addition to loans, grants, and TA, ADB uses guarantees and equity investments to help its developing member countries.

With headquarters in Manila, ADB has 30 offices around the world with 2,958 staff from 61 members as of 31 December 2011.

Shareholding and Voting Power

Number of shares held:	459,204 (4.34% of total shares)

Paid-in capital subscription:	$352.58 million

Contributions to Special Funds Resources

Germany has contributed to the Asian Development Fund (ADF), which is ADB's window for concessional lending to its borrowing members, and to the Technical Assistance Special Fund (TASF), which provides grants to borrowing members to help prepare projects and undertake technical or policy studies.

Contributions to the ADF (committed):	$2.06 billion
Contributions to the TASF (committed):	$47.82 million

Cofinancing

ADB arranges cofinancing from bilateral, multilateral, export credit agencies, and commercial sources in the form of grants for technical assistance and components of investment projects, B loans, risk transfer arrangements, parallel loans, and cofinancing for transactions under ADB's Trade Finance Program. Cofinancing brings additional resources to ADB's project financing. In 2011, total direct value-added cofinancing amounted to $7.7 billion for 180 projects of which $7.5 billion was for 47 investment projects and $211.4 million for 133 technical assistance projects. Cumulative direct value-added cofinancing for the period 1970–2011 amounted to $30.7 billion for 1,854 projects, of which $29.5 billion was for 549 investment projects and $1.2 billion was for 1,305 technical assistance projects.

Cofinancing with Germany from 1 January 2007 to 31 December 2011 comprised the following:

Projects:*	7 projects, cofinancing of $671.56 million
Grants:	2 project, cofinancing of $30.76 million
Official Loans:	2 projects, cofinancing of $406.40 million
Commercial Cofinancing:	3 projects, cofinancing of $234.40 million
Technical Assistance Grants:	2 projects, cofinancing of $0.49 million

*A project with more than one source of cofinancing is counted once.

Trust Funds

Trust funds are key instruments to mobilize and channel grants from external sources to finance technical assistance and components of investment projects. They play an important role in complementing ADB's own grant resources. So far, bilateral, multilateral, and private sector partners have contributed about $4.3 billion in grants, including trust funds, to ADB operations. Initially, trust funds were established through single-donor channel financing agreements targeting a number of specific sectors. Over time, ADB has been increasingly switching to multidonor trust funds covering thematic issues. A more recent development is the establishment of trust funds under theme-focused umbrella initiatives, called financing partnership facilities, which support priority areas in ADB's long-term strategic framework, Strategy 2020 such as water, clean energy, regional cooperation and integration, and urban sector financing.

Germany has contributed to the following trust fund:

Cumulative commitment: €0.05 million

Nonsovereign Operations

As a catalyst for private investments, ADB provides financial assistance to nonsovereign public sector and private sector projects in the form of direct loans, equity investments, guarantees, B loans, and trade finance. Since its inception, ADB has approved a total of $14.57 billion in nonsovereign financing, $12.77 billion of which were for 257 private sector projects. Total outstanding balances and commitments of ADB's nonsovereign transactions as of 31 December 2011 totaled $5.4 billion.

Share of ADB's Procurement Contracts

Each year, ADB provides loans to fund projects and activities in its developing member countries and several billion dollars in contracts to procure goods and consulting services.

Procurement contracts for goods and related services, civil works, and consulting services under loan and technical assistance operations totaled $6.92 billion in 2010 and $7.56 billion in 2011. Cumulative procurement, as of 31 December 2011, was $117.97 billion. Most contracts were awarded on the basis of international competition, which is open to firms and individuals from any ADB member, regional or nonregional.
